City Descriptions

New Bern

New Bern has become a popular destination for many visitors who enjoy its natural beauty, historic charm, and convenient location. The second oldest town in North Carolina, New Bern settled in 1710 by German and Swiss colonists. Named for the city of Bern, Switzerland, the town is located on the confluence of the Neuse and Trent Rivers. Experience New Bern as read about in many novels written by popular, local resident Nicholas Sparks. Enjoy a Pepsi with local pharmacist Caleb Bradham at the Birthplace of Pepsi-Cola. Wander back in time through Tryon Palace and the NC History Center. New Bern is truly a Southern Surprise, offering the best of all worlds just waiting to be discovered!

Havelock

has much to offer residents and visitors

Located in Eastern North Carolina, midway between historic New Bern and the beautiful beaches of the Crystal Coast, Havelock alike. Havelock is a great place to live or visit, blending old fashioned Southern hospitality with a cultural diversity. Havelock is proud to be the home of Marine Corps Air Station Cherry Point. Havelock is one of eight cities in the world named after Sir Henry Havelock. Existing records indicate that the production of naval supplies including turpentine and tar were very important in the local economy during the 19th century. With the invention of the steam engine, the demand for tar and turpentine slowly evaporated as fewer wooden ships were constructed. Havelock became the home of MCAS Cherry Point in 1940.

Bridgeton

Bridgeton lies on the north/east bank of the Neuse River and has figured importantly in the history of the area for over a hundred years. Named for a series of bridges built over the Neuse starting with the original wooden structure built in 1898, the town was also serviced by ferry, railroad and has always been a hub for major roads in the area. Recently, Bridgeton has been noted for its blueberry growing and its harvests are among the finest in the state. At one time, Bridgeton was known for its mills and plywood production and even today hosts several indigenous industries including boat building and a small chemical producer. Much of the commerce in town revolves around a nautical theme. There are several businesses that specialize in marine canvas, boat repair and storage and marine consignment with a world class marina which rounds out this collection.
