CLASSES & WORKSHOPS FOR YOUTH & ADULTS

Our community includes lawyers shrugging off their suits and staring down from the flying trapeze platform, toddlers somersaulting for the first time, and budding professional performers figuring out how to balance conditioning and skill building with doing laundry and getting a full night's sleep. Whatever challenges circus might present, our coaches are here to guide you.

NECCA offers weekly recreational classes for all levels, weekend workshops, summer training programs, private lessons, camps, and special events.

You can try just about every circus discipline imaginable including: trapeze, tight wire, trampoline, rope, fabric, lyra, swinging trapeze, juggling, object manipulation, sling, Cyr wheel, German wheel, Chinese pole, partner acrobatics, flexibility, strength training, handstands, flying trapeze, and much more.

PERFORMANCES

We believe in the transformative power of performance for both the audience and the participants. To that end, we strive to create pathways for anyone that wants to express their artistic vision or just show off a sweet new set of skills. We present youth recitals, works-in-progress showcases, cabarets, and professional-quality contemporary circus productions. NECCA also fosters the growth of American circus through our company-in-residence program, helping new ideas come to fruition.

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING

Whether you masquerade as someone with a "normal" job and can only get away for short stretches, or if you want to drop everything and join a full-time program, we've got you covered. Our coaching team has a track record of preparing students for whatever stage they aspire to and the flexibility to make it work for you.

We have Residency students on cruise ships and Broadway shows while our ProTrack Program has been preparing artists for professional circus careers for over a decade.
