

Intentions

I aspire to smile though you rather I cry

I set out to speak the truth though you rather I lie

I plan to love though you teach hate

I seek overstanding though you can't relate

I intend to heal while you destroy

I'll end suffering while you steal joy

I am determined to win though you have the head-start

I continue because I care but you have no heart!